PROJECT SUMMARY:

The Sitting Bull College is a tribally controlled community college located on the Standing Rock Sioux Reservation in Fort Yates, ND. The major purpose of Sitting Bull College's Native American Career & Technical Education Program (NACTEP) is to provide training in Nursing/Nursing Assistant, Criminal Justice, and Information Technology.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES:

During the course of the project Sitting Bull College will –

- Retain current students, recruit new students and enroll a minimum of 60 students in Nursing, Criminal Justice, and Information Technology programs.
- Train 60 students, 20 in Nursing/Nursing Assistant, 20 in Criminal Justice and 20 in Information Technology. Of these a minimum of 30 students will complete either a certificate or degree program. At least eighty percent of these 30 students (24 students) will be placed in positions relating to their training.
- Provide career and academic counseling and job placement services to a minimum of 60 participants in the vocational education programs.
- Develop an effective evaluation method and disseminate the methodology through the North Dakota Tribal College Deans Committee, North Dakota Career and Technical Education Directors Association, and American Indian Higher Education Consortium.
